

The Cyan Velvet Project, Dead Skin

holy ghost disintegrator open up the path again let me stay away for a while dwell in big hollow this time safe beyond the empty reasons idle hours of questioning it is time to peel off the dead skin to survive that's what world has to do in order to revive
it is time to peel off the dead skin to survive so come on and release what's in store for us all home is where the heart is, they say but soul prepares to move away tired of keeping up the pace in this rat-race-like gathering i'm on the verge to stop worrying about the worst could come up as result of our effrontery the final catastrophe that we lose ain't even a tragedy an inevitable fact is when the earth reacts our towers crack and we can not fight back