

The Cyan Velvet Project, Delve Into the Darkness

you do know what your mind can deal with
and what it can not?
errors in reality
who's terrified of what is inside who'll draw nightmares in altered shapes and claim to know all
"love is a name
love is a land
you oughta know that
love is a land
there is no name for the ground where I stand I now understand
just distorted memories of being alive the real world of numbers vast oceans of wealth and the war into the darkness it's lovers delve eager to die in slow burn it's like were trying to rise from this pit our leaps of faith, leaps out of one's fate a big surprise
