

The Cyan Velvet Project, Soundtrack for Tragedy

this ill-famed prodigy is here in a search for the overflowing amity challenging like art with or without disleading metaphors overlook this feeling and yearn for another place or muse upon this narcosis and advance to another phase kiss me it's been snowing for a thousand years almost as long as i've followed you sweeping to limbo among the faces of you i've lost the reason by realising the cause can't find expression for this loss not a word more for me to say i'm giving up the poetry because i think tonight i might just slip further from the light
