

The Darlings, Where Do We Go

Roll with the punches that are thrown words hit close to home another one betrayed Go have you ever been in that place do you need the escape gotta get away
we drive around on these streets tonight Where do we go now I don't know all I'm hearing is the radio Reaping the whirlwind choices made give and take, give and take Where do we go now I don't know
all I'm hearing is the radio What will the tide bring ya never know never know, never know Hey to the nights that never end sing a song for my friends like a million times before Hey to the loves that I have lost bridges I have crossed ain't coming back no more
We drive around on these streets tonight
The city talks to me she's changed with time We're moving on and on again same scene plays on and on again We're moving on and on again
