

The Delgados, Make your Move

Finish what you've started here.

You make your move just once a year.

In the city in the town, your happy home is never found.

Second hand was never planned.

The birth was over, the baby banned.

She fled the place at such a pace, she never even saw your face.

So go with me.

Inside.

Believe.

You have so much to give.

Switch the light off, have a go.

Force the only one you know, to leave this place without a trace.

A pity I had seen your face.

Where do you think I will find this party girl who was so kind ?

Raven hair and skin so fair, sadness never visits there.

So go with me.

Inside.

Believe.

You have so much to give.
