

The Dillinger Escape Plan, Milk Lizard

I picked your legs down low to the ground
Lickin' all the sweat droppin' off of her heels heels
She walks my teeth too when she walks
I held you down
Oh missy you's a lot to learn
If you wanna cry bitch go do it alone
Don't take no dares/time no not for me
Just cut me out
You crept up like a disease
Lookin' like a girl who is tryin' to be seen
Your heart was tryin' to beat
Now get back in the river if you're talkin' to me
Well you thought you'd tear my skin from bone
Just 'cause it was cold and you needed a coat
Tell Jesus you're still diggin' a hole
Start digging now
You can't stop sleeping tonight
When you want to go home but you don't have a ride
No time, just takes one touch from me
My soldier's weight
And you were there
And I was every question that
Never had an answer
I see right through you
And never even noticed that
There always was a reason
That we were never meant to be left alone
And it feels like neverending
This feels like neverending
