

The Dingees, Rebel Youth

Rebel youth we're knockin' down the aristocrats
Watch 'em fall watch 'em fall
They hit the ground with the domino effect

Day after day week after week
Month after month year after year
All the ones supposedly leadin'
Are looking down on us with fear
They want control they need control
They're afraid to lose all they stole
They've seen the scene become much too large
The rebel youth won't keep corrupt in charge
Now we're goin' into battle with a sling and a stone
Climbing up and over barriers that we've never known
So take a brick and smash it into the wall
Becuz the harder they come you know the bigger the fall
