

The Disposable Heroes Of Hiphoprisy, Famous A

(Chorus:)

just like Amos 'n' Andy
(2x)

It's quite a spectacle to see us land in waste receptacles
as if we've planned it We're never skeptical
when we get branded Then disrespectful cause we feel abandoned
The height of mediocrity is the challenge Crawling through the entrails of imbalance
We learn to like to be the heroes
We learn to lie to the brand name negroes
We learn to laugh to avoid being angry
We learn to kill and learn to go hungry
We learn not to feel, for protection and we learn to flaunt when we get an erection

(Chorus:)

just like Amos 'n' Andy
(2x)

We're born believing we're greater than circumstance Infinitely stronger than chance As our first breath is handed We taste the double standard the need to wear the mask
And with society's nurturing The psychic plastic surgery begins to take effect
As our souls watch astounded
Our characters flounder
duplicitous identity Diction and contradiction have become the skills of assimilation
Razor honed to perfection
From the moment of creation It's gone from identity crisis
To survival slingshot to rifle Sin to revival Try to get looked at but not poked in the eyeball Warned of our impurities Afraid of insecurities Real life experts of the artificial Athletes and entertainers have become the minstrels on commercials

(Chorus:)

(2x)

On screen or off we can be rented to perform any feat

And we reflect the images presented by the media's elite Positive or negative attention is viewed as success U.S.D.A. African American Beef is seen as progress
We never ask ourselves too many questions too much thruth in introspection Maintain the regimentation and avoid self-degradation
We act out all the stereotypes Try to use them as decoy and we become shining examles of the system we set out to destroy Cause even in the most radical groups you will find that when you stray from the doctrine you'll see hard times

(Chorus:)
(2x)

Being kicked in the mouth or smiling with no teeth They're both choices, yes but it's impossible to eat Uneducated, underdeveloped Undisciplined but mostly unaware We join the flavor of the month club
We swallow the flavor of the month Well holding our crotch
was the flavor of the month Bitch this Bitch that
Being a thug
Then no to drugs
Kangol
Rope gold
Adidas shoes
Then bashing Jews
Gentrification
Isolation
My pockets are so empty I can feel my testicles cause I spent all my money on some plastic African necklaces and I still don't know what the colors mean...
RED, BLACK AND GREEN

(Chorus:)
(4x)
