

The Draft, The Tide is Out

Cease and desist.
I don't think that I'll miss
all these straight laced mind games following us around.
Cease and desist.
I don't think that I'll miss feeling so wasted and wasting more every second out...
Cause it had me worn
down to nothing but torn pieces reaching bleaches
not even sure if it was dry land,
but the tide is out,
and I got my feet down.

The farther you get the harder it seems to get to keep up with things.
Some days it's hard to just keep yourself moving.
But the tide is out, and I got my feet down.
