

The Draft, We'll Never Know

It's ok
it'll be alright ok
Just might be better off this way
if so and I for one am ready
Just might be better off this way
We'll never know
No, we will never know

It might take a while but I can wait
A rotten air stunk up the place
So long and I'm half gone already
Just might be better off this way
We'll never know
No, we will never know

I'm on to figure out our chances
Testing out all our inventions
Taking all the changes on

Woke to different destinations
Wasting on our good intentions
Never waking us up

Always it is all up to us

No, we will never know
No, we will never know
No, we will never know
