

The Echoing Green, Redemption

You scratch the surface
I take the plunge
You say it's started
I say it's done
Is this another mountain?
Is this another wall?
Is this another precipice
For me to take a fall?

Should I call surrender?
Should I call to arms?
It's just another question
I can't resolve
I really need a savior
I need a shining star
I need someone bigger than this
To take hold of my heart

Redeem me
Redeem me
Redeem me
Redeem me
