

The Echoing Green, Trip

You may find when things start to come apart and you've not time to hold on to what you've got that sometimes life can be so unkind

It's not time to step down from where you are
'Cause you've got dreams you'll see that are not so far sometimes you'll find that things are alright
so don't fight...

and don't trip
and don't fall down
so don't trip
and don't hold on to the ground
so don't...trip

London Bridge is not always falling down but you might feel that your turn will come around and sometimes you're right - the world is unkind

You might feel that bright days are hard to top and you can pray that these days will never stop but sometimes you'll find rainy days are alright
so don't fight...

and don't turn this song around
