The Exploited, Another Day To Go Nowhere

Another day to go nowhere Another day to go nowhere Another day to go nowhere Another day to go nowhere Another factory closes down Protesting voices have been drowned Just another town that dies Work force workers go home and cry Another day to go nowhere Another family leaves the town Try their luck southward bound Its only hope that spurs them on Lost horizons dream on Another day to go nowhere Nights of boredom trigger despair Anarch breaks out in the workless homes Ousted sons and daughters roam Another day to go nowhere Another corpse hangs from a tree Is suicide left for you and me Reared up in a workless zone Teachers in the damned to free their own
