

The Explosion, Leave It In The Dirt

another sad game of who's fuckin' who who's getting fucked and who's doing the screw what was once thought dead was brought back and made real all eyes crossed and lips sealed so this is living this is life it's a battle tank world against my pocketknife been twenty years and i just can't get it right i'd like to know tell me who said so that smile on your face you've always been rehearsing feelings fucking change and backs are always turning trust is hard to say watching friends turn enemies whatever this was worth was left in the dirt

so this is living this is life
it's a battle tank world against my pocketknife
been twenty years and i just can't get it right

it's a battle tank world against my pocketknife
been twenty years and i just can't get it right
