

The Ferrymen, One Word

One word louder than everything else
You know you shouldn't listen
It won't go away
No matter how much praise you get
When the night falls
Only dark echos in your mind

I have to silence this voice
Once and for all

Run, don't let the evil words reach you
The screams are getting louder
But you are far gone
Why, why would you ever listen
One word can bring you down
One word can destroy it all

You know it doesn't mean anything
Evil words from broken souls
Why would you care
Your dreams they can be a lonely place
Don't let them ruin what you built up
They can't have that power

I have to silence this voice
Once and for all

Run, don't let the evil words reach you
The screams are getting louder
But you are far gone
Why, why would you ever listen
One word can bring you down
One word can destroy it all

I have to silence this voice
Once and for all

Run, don't let the evil words reach you
The screams are getting louder
But you are far gone
Why, why would you ever listen
One word can bring you down
One word can destroy it all... versuri.online
