The Flaming Lips, The Last Drop Of Morning Dev

I think the state of mind that I'm in We should drop it right now Well you've got yourself to blame If you need these sunny days And all those plans that I made They're all changed by the end of the day 'Cause God fucked up when he made us 'Cause he made us so we could hate us And the world could end in a second