

The Fold, What Is Right

And I know that it's in you to accept what is right
But there's something in your way tonight
And I know that it's in you to accept what is true
Maybe it's a broken heart away from you
You react, but refuse to respond to poison
When it's eating away at you.
And I know that it's in you to accept what is right
What is right
What is right
