

The Georgia Satellites, Golden Light

Let go this ribbon of darkness now and like a drunk I'll go fall, laughing down You can tell me I'm no different but I hear the full moon call my name
You can tell me how nothin' changes nothin' stays the same

Lost in a golden light
lost in a golden light

and they tell you truth is a moment it shines just like a flame so let it shine on me and I'll stand when it calls my name
You can tell me I'm no different but I hear the full moon call my name
You can tell me how nothin changes
nothin stays the same

lost in a golden light

You can tell me I'm no different but
I hear the full moon call my name
You can tell me how nothin changes

lost in a golden light
lost in a golden light
lost in a golden light
