

The Goo Goo Dolls, Somethin' Bad

Well they're shutting all the shops up on the avenue
And they're holding out for cheaper Chinese food
If I'm older now and have a tainted attitude
Why'd those neon lights all lost their common blue

And it's not like me to feel so important
And it's not like me to go and wreck your day
And I never thought I'd see it so exploited
Ah but I know that somethin bad has gotta change
Oh, yes I know that somethin bad has gotta change

Well I see them working round the block till six a.m.
The thermometer's at minus five degrees
And I'm wondering where all that hard earned money goes
To her head or towards a shred of dignity

(2x)And it's not like me to feel so important
And it's not like me to go and wreck your day
And I never thought I'd see it so exploited
Ah but I know that somethin bad has gotta change
Ah but I know that somethin bad has gotta change (up & repeat 1x)
Ah yes I know that something bad has gotta change
Yes I know that something bad has gotta change
Ah yes I know that something bad has gotta change
