

The Good Life, Some Bullshit Escape

Called in sick for work said the fevers getting worse
There's a lot of that going around
I packed a duffle bag
With some clothes from the attic
It's getting colder in the evening

I hocked my pocket watch
And a couple old guitars
I could hardly stand to play them
I drew all my savings out Closed my bank account stuck the money in the glove box

I drove away on Monday
I couldn't say where I was going to It's just something I had to do
I was bored of it by Thursday driving amorously down aimless interstates searching for queues
Yeah for you

And I don't know where you are I guess I haven't looked too hard because I'm afraid that I might find you Is it special where you are Like Xanadu or Shangri-La
Is it anything like Omaha

I called in sick on Monday
I was already off the next couple of days
Some bullshit escape
I was back to work on Thursday yeah, The fevers gone I think I beat
The fever bite me, yeah it bite me
But I been sleeping and taking things
I think I've got it beat...
