

The Herd, Scallops

"Did you arder the chips?"
"No I ordered the scallops."
"No Chips?"
"No chips, just scallop burgers."
"How long did she say?"
"10 minutes or so."
"10 minutes..."
"Ooh, that might be them."
"Ah? (ha ha) 10 minutes?"

Ah yeah..
Bring it up now.
Definatly.
This one goes out to fish pissed mouth, patty Don't forget burger mouth.
Is he filleted?
That's right, talk to him.
Ok then..

fatty cells expand when we take the mic in hand check out the land on which we dwell with the rhyme unplanned now central coastin' hot like central heating mc's minds meating like the lake meets the sea at swansea on solid rock yes you know we dont stop until we got everyone of you poppin like bottle tops like a stubby on the verandah nothing we planned'a just spontaneous banter when we take the chance to entice you to do this nice to whatever vice you choose I think we prove you got nothing to lose by following us - in my tongue I trust to get done what we must swirls of reddust behind me so hard to find it so why try getting high wide open skies and country side just gimme some beats and rhymes and room to thrive and i swear that I'll always come live and direct inspect the jam from every angle that you can and you might interpret the master plan but if you dont I'll still be rockin the boat chillin wit traksue and Toe Fu lake side to promote this new view

"Oh wow, hey did you see that....."
"Is that right? In anybody their?"
"Kenny, did you see that?"
"Kenny."
"It's a flying scallop over the lake."
"Wow."

Ah Scallops! With Dollops of flavour on top, When we do what we do we give heads the bops.

torches reflect water scorching sun ordinary laws bored people run off the day dont stay so they packed up stacked up equipment set up the way to play at lake placid snake acid recapping groove grabbing thought skanking travelled on trains buses pains mail lines trusted train departing we rushed it discussed it lack of preparation separation from city scenes littered streets reversed beats immersed in the heat of the batlas teknique wants and needs verbal speed darkness feeds and bites and beats through the night that are sliced with a knife ripe with the rhymes that run through my life with stacks and piles of pancakes and pears for goodness sake im aware when we wake opportunities we take to break and break and frantically tickle me its rushing all over me clip art cobras.... descending on wyee station not of the rave persuasion we are our own rave trakswet tofu and i disembark in strange days swarms of Christmas beetles you have to get through or shoo away Quick a select few knew what to do and chose or choose to flight or flew to coastal aboads for tunes of new no seeds be sown its all be blown in breezes reflective foils sonic releases and eases me essential, like sunscreen, spf 15 slip slop slap on this track when you wanna feel like summer laid back song gets stronger, mcs go longer when folks in live shows nod along to their flows
