

The Hives, You Think You're So Darn Special

Frances she lost forty ponds, so what about me?
Well I don't know much about anything
But I know I've got to pay
They never feed me, never let me watch T-V
They'r gonna wish they never fucked with me
Spotlight pointed in my face, what's going on?
They're about to punish me for something all of us would have done
I managed to escape, but I wasn't gone for long
They're holding me down, twisting my arm saying "You'r the one to blame"
Still I haven't got a clue what's really on my mind
If you just got off my back the truth will be easier to find
How can I say that it was I? how can I say that it was I who broke the chain+
So what's with me? i'm such a mess
Mr Twistmyarm is forcing me to confess
Don't know what's come over me, don't know what popped out
But I think I'm beginning to sense what this is really all about
They're looking for someone like me
For someone to blame, to take a fall, to take a dive
For someone they can frame
Still I haven't got a clue what's really on my mind
If you just got off my back the truth will be easier to find
