

The Hoosiers, Clinging On For Life

I need you to reach me
Teach me how to love
I need you to reach me
Teach me how to learn

Because I must have got it wrong
If I'd love then it's gone
I've been living without it for oh so long
And that's the way it goes I suppose

We've made enough mistakes between
The two of us to sink this thing
But we're still clinging on for life
Made enough mistakes between
The two of us to sink this thing
We're still clinging on for life

I need you to reach me
Teach me how to love
I need you to reach me
Teach me how to learn

We've must have got it wrong
If I'd love then it's gone
I've been living without it for oh so long
That's the way it goes I suppose

We've made enough mistakes between
The two of us to sink this thing
We're still clinging on for life
Made enough mistakes between
The two of us to sink this thing
We're still clinging on for life

And I must have got it wrong
If I'd love then it's gone
I've been living without it for oh so long
And that's the way it goes
When your head can but suppose
And instead of answers
It's full of "I don't know"'s
And that's the way it goes
I suppose
