The Hooters, Karla With A K

Freedom has its ups and downs Walk the streets of lonesome town Try to find some company Somebody who will talk to me

Well I'm here all alone A wind blows home We'll find it someday There's no reason to cry For days gone by Oh, Karla, we can make it if we try

Hurricanes and Cadillacs
They run you down and don't look back
Oh where can my salvation be
A tender touch to comfort me

But I'm here all alone A wind blows home We'll find it someday There's no reason to cry For days gone by Oh, Karla, we can make it if we try

No matter how the wind may blow You belong to me Like the mountains to the sky And you know when I close my eyes You're the one I see Oh, Karla, we can make it if we try

Old man river's on the rise Wash the circles from my eyes Hurricane is on its way You can call it Karla Karla with a k
