

The HU, Sell The World

Keep cutting down
The woods, everything grows from the soil
Keep plucking out
Believing in deceits of an unwise one
Oh oh
Until there is no air to breathe
Worse than a beast
Leave a living hell to your offspring
Destroy everything that is salable
Stay there claiming this is the life

Keep pouring down
Until there is no water to wet your mouth
Trade for gold
Trade everything alive and lifeless
Oh oh
Until the flowing rivers vanish
Thoughts to ponder
Until you treasure the salt water
Waste the groundwater to the last drop
Stay thirsty on parched earth with your coins

Keep ransacking
Until the richness of it turns to grey
Keep stuffing
Turning all int worn out bills
Oh oh
Destroying this amazing world
For your children
Leaving worthless money as you depart
Claiming that you only live once in
This world
Acting as if you won't be reborn

Keep diggin in
Until the sacred mountains turn to ruins
Keep stripping
Until your birthplace is shattered
Oh oh
Annihilate all
Until the whole wide world fades
Until there is no place for mercy
When you are reborn in your afterlife
Your descendants may have
Sold the world and departed
Beware of the rebirth and behave
