

The (International) Noise Conspiracy, A Northwest

Hey my sister where have you been?
I've been looking all over for you in this world where we don't fit in Hey my brother where have you gone?
I've been trying to recognize your face in this world where we don't belong

There is a light that shines on everyone
Shines on me and it shines on you
There is a light that shines on everyone
One day I will see it through

Hey that is what I say-We're gonna try to find a new way
Hey that is what I see-a Northwest Passage for you and me

Hey my comrade strike a pose for me
Overheard you talking about resistance and other things that might set us free
Hey my lover cuddle up inside
I wanna hold you then I wanna kiss you wanna make you mine tonight

Hey that is what I say-we're gonna try to find a new way
Hey that is what I see-a Northwest Passage for you and me

I blow my mind for you everyday
Turn on your love lights and let them shine on me
