

The (International) Noise Conspiracy, Dead Language

Is there a question about it? Do you feel sentimental yet?
What are you communicating, yeah please can you tell me that?
I got seduced by a preacher, I was blind but now I see
And I'm going to show those bastards the same respect that they are showing me

If we spend our whole lives bending
What do you think that we will get?
What are you trying so hard to understand?
Aren't the structures obvious yet?

Yeah if we are so righteous, where is the action to our concern?
Do you think that the moral light that guides you will be the same to make the powers turn?
I got seduced by an impulse, I got a bigger need to feel
Cause your definition of love baby doesn't satisfy me

If we spend our whole lives bending
What do you think that we will get?
What are you trying so hard to understand?
Aren't the structures obvious yet?

Your dead language of love
Hey I don't mind breaking Starbucks windows cause it is more fun
Than waiting around for better days to come
Hey I can envision more radical times
No more just waiting around
