

The Jam, Worlds Apart

Worlds apart, you and I, we're worlds apart

The difference between every day
I can't think of the words to say

Worlds apart, you and I, we're worlds apart

I've been in some clubs where the music's loud cos I see your face in every crowd
But it's not really you

It's like having a cold on a summers day
Something ain't right and I want you to stay
You must know that

Worlds apart, you and I, we're worlds apart
