

The Jayhawks, Baby, Baby, Baby

Baby, baby, baby
I had to move along
I took my bags, I took my car
But it all went wrong
Beneath the gloom
I hear the sirens whine they sound so far away
A darkened room
I hear you call my name, I had so much to say
I've been so faithful, I've been so true
There's a million flags flying
A million dreams that died
And I died too
As twisted metal rained across the interchange
I've been so faithful, I've been so true
I would have run (baby, baby, baby)
But I never saw it coming (baby, baby, baby)
I've been so faithful, I've been so true
I would have run (baby, baby, baby)
But I never saw it coming (baby, baby, baby)
I would have run (baby, baby, baby)
Flying, flying
Ooh so beautiful, so beautiful
You'll cry your eyes
Just like Jesus Christ, just like Jesus Christ
So beautiful, you'll cry your eyes
Just like Jesus Christ, just like Jesus Christ
So beautiful, so beautiful, so beautiful
