

The Jesus And Mary Chain, Reverberation

you've finally found your health was fine
it's strapped inside your skin you want to leave
but you believe
you won't get back again
you only know
you have to go
this feeling you can't deny you try and try
you die and die
you're stuck on your own now

reverberation
reverberation

you find ?
it doesn't cease
this deadly irritation
you catch a lie
you stare behind
you're sick with fermentation you hold your thoughts your mind is caught
your fixed with fascination you think you'll die
but can't rely
it's back with devastation

reverberation

come on

you start to swirl
the downward curl
catches up your feels
comes home to you
and downs inside your ?
you start to fight against a knife
that swings inside your mind there's something black that bounces back
and grabs you from behind
