

The Juliana Theory, This Is The End Of Your Life

hold everything dear in your hand
in a moment it's gone everything that you love disappears hold everything close cause you may outlast it memory's all that remain of the way that it was

watch it all go by cause it's all that you can do everything changes so fast for better or for worse
it was never up to you
everything's changing so fast

hold everything in you're a mess
it took years to attain but a second to tear it all down burn everything off cause the feeling won't last memory's are all that remain of the way that it was

it's changing . . .
it's changing now

every single second counts
single moment leads up to now

this is the end of their life this is the end of your life this is the end of our life this is the end of my life . . .
