

The Kelly Family, What's A Matter You People

Where there is hatred they sow love where there is injury they sow pardon where there is friction they sow union and error through doubt faith where there's despair they sow hope where there's darkness light and where there's sadness joy what's a matter you people, what's a matter you say what's a matter you people, it's gonna be a bright sunny day where there's love there is also pain they do not seek to be consoled as much as to console or to be understood as to understand or to be loved as to love for it is in giving that they receive and in pardoning that they are pardoned and in dying that they are born to eternal life what's a matter you people, what's a matter you say
to save one's soul save one's life save one's soul save one's life
to save one's soul save one's life
save one's soul save one's life these are the instruments of peace what's a matter you people, what's a matter you say
save one's soul save one's life
save one's soul save one's life
