

The Kid LAROI, Thousand Miles

I know that look on your face
You're coming my way, you're coming my way tonight
Here goes another mistake
I know I'm gon' make, I know I'm gon' make tonight

Oh, you should let it go, you're better off alone
Cause I'm about to f*ck it up with you
I know that look on your face
You're coming my way, you're coming my way tonight

And I will never change
I couldn't even, if I wanted for you
There's nothing left to say
If I was you, if I was you then I would stay
A thousand miles away (a thousand miles away)

It's hard to give it all up
Tryna block you out but you're evading my thoughts
And you got, ten fingers wrapped around my heart
Wish I could give you everything that you want
But I won't, no

You should let it go, you're better off alone
Cause I'm about to f*ck it up with you
I know that look on your face
You're coming my way
Tomorrow we'll say goodbye

And I will never change
I couldn't even if I wanted for you (oh)
If I was you, if I was you then I would stay
A thousand miles away (a thousand miles away)

Here in your arms, I'm already gone
You got me wrong, and I played along

I know that look on your face
You're coming my way, you're coming my way tonight
Here goes another mistake
I know i'm gonna make, I know i'm gonna make tonight

And I will never change
I couldn't even, if I wanted for you
If I was you, if I was you then I would stay
A thousand miles away (a thousand miles away)
