The Kin, Nowhere To Now Here

She moves me She takes me in It feels like the first time She finds me She blinds me Yet she opens Opens my eyes Take this love Calls your name No need to walk alone From nowhere to now here Change has come Well come in No need to walk alone From nowhere to now here She lives inside me Oh heavens here tonight She wakes me up just in time Now shes beside me I feel I could die tonight It feels like this love keeps me alive Take this love Calls your name No need to walk alone From nowhere to now here Change has come Well come in No need to walk alone From nowhere to now here From nowhere to now here From nowhere to now here No need to walk alone From nowhere to now here From nowhere to now here From nowhere to now here

No need to walk alone From nowhere to now here Nowhere to now here Nowhere to now here
