

The Kingston Trio, The Seine

Irving Burgess

One night along the river at St. Germain de Pre, I first met my beloved at a small sidewalk caf.
We walked along the river, the shadows passing by but we only saw each other, the shining water

Chorus:

The Seine, the Seine, when will I again meet her there, greet her there on the moonlit banks of the

Standing there across the river, mid sound of horn and tram, in all her quiet beauty, the cathedral N
And as we passed beside her, I said a little prayer that when this dream was over, I'd awake and find

(Chorus)

We walked along the river, 'till dawn was coming nigh. Beneath the Eiffel Tower we said our last good
There on that splendid morning, I left you all in tears and the beauty of that hour will shine within me

(Chorus)

The Seine, the Seine, when will I again meet her there on the Seine?
