The Kinks, What's In Store For Me

I wanna know what is to be To see what life's cut out for me I'm waiting for my fate 'Cause I know I've done wrong I wanna know just what's in store for me

I wish I had a crystal ball To see my rise and see my fall I've done a lot of right, But also done some wrong I wanna know just what's in store for me

And so I'll wait a while And wait a little longer I'll just have to wait and see

I think a lot but I'll stop trying I'll just get old before my time I'll live the life I've got But I don't sleep at night I wanna know just what's in store for me

I'll live the life I've got But I don't sleep at night I wanna know just what's in store for me I wanna know just what's in store for me
