

The Kovenant, Industrial twilight

United we stand in shared perversion
The love of death - The paradise of Hell
This infinite limbo, like a great black engine
Ultimate abomination, no one here gets out alive
Let the poison arrows fall
Let the pillars of "heaven" crumble
Martyrs to no one but ourselves
We are the rusted pillars of a better tomorrow
Give me your crippled hand, and I'll drag you into evolution
Compassion is obsolete, the answers are no longer true
Too many sides to choose from, fascism in masked control forms
Paradise...prepare for deconstruction
Welcome to the radiant silos of Atom
Man-made misery, the perfect anti-life
Divine radiation, the corruption of flesh
Ours is the God of nuclear winter
Synthesized evolution of tomorrow
When we tried to become, the world turned negative
You were the words in my mouth
When I was just trying to save their world
Welcome to the radiant silos of Atom
Man-made misery, the perfect anti-life
Divine radiation, the corruption of flesh
Ours is the God of nuclear winter
"Once I was the carrier of wounds, featherless and without direction,
Never a saint nor a saviour, relentless in my search for a higher existence...
In a nuclear war...All men will be cremated equal!"
