

The Kovenant, Mannequin

There's nothing left inside your world...It's dying
Just close your eyes...Eternity is just another game
You're just another clone...So shed your skin now
Nothing last forever...Just let it slip away
It doesn't have to be forever
It doesn't have to be forever
You're just another faithless mannequin
You're just another fallen star
You're just too blind to see, you hate what you can never be
And now you're hollow...Just like me
There's nothing left inside your world
You're just an empty shell of lifeless skin and bone
You're just another drone...A synthetic messiah
Nothing last forever...Just let it slip away
It doesn't have to be forever
It doesn't have to be forever
You don't want to be human...Anymore than me
You're just another faithless mannequin
You're just another fallen star
You're just too blind to see, you hate what you can never be
And now you're hollow...Just like me
