

The Legendary Pink Dots, The Lovers (Part One)

Airport torture. Patience! Wait! The tannoy shouts you've just arrived and fingers tap and eyes are strained - they wander through the queue for recognition. Soon we'll be together - sharing secrets. Share a scarf..... and share a little heaven. Again. ...
Kisses over breakfast. Touching souls and swapping wishes.
The coffee's cold - you washed the dishes - shared a cigarette and time to go. We took the train - still clutching.
We smiled as others looked away....then looked again...
Hands across the table - tasting tears and linking fingers. Case is packed but we'll still linger 'til our time is up. Soon we'll just be swapping letters, crying down the telephone. We'll wish away the seconds
'til the story starts again.....