The Lemonheads, Mallo Cup

Here I am outside your house at 3 A.M. Try'n to think you out of bed. I whistle at your sill, it echoes 'cross the street instead.

I never will forget.
I ain't remembered yet.
Like mackeral in a net,
I forget to forget.

And you saw nothing in my eyes but yourself. Nothing in my eyes. I can't seem to find the same in no one else, I guess it's no surprise.

I never can forget.
I ain't remembered yet.
Like mackeral in a net,
I forget to forget.

I forget to forget. I forget to forget. I ain't remembered yet.
