

The Lynns, Cry Cry Baby

(Peggy Lynn/Patsy Lynn/James Lewis)

You did not understand what goodbye could do
You seem a little dazed and confused
Oh, but you've been blind to the writing on the wall
Well hello honey face it, reality as come to call

You're gonna cry, cry baby
Those tears will fall like rain
When the shoe's on the other foot those teardrops ain't the same
You're gonna get a little close up of what I've been feeling lately
But all I can tell you, is cry cry baby

Now there ain't no way to take this like a man
So you best prepare yourself the best you can
While your out there drowning in a sea of pain
There's just one thing for certain
And that cold hard fact remains

You're gonna cry, cry baby
Those tears will fall like rain
When the shoe's on the other foot those teardrops ain't the same
You're gonna get a little close up of what I've been feeling lately
But all I can tell you, is cry cry baby

You're gonna cry, cry baby
Those tears will fall like rain
When the shoe's on the other foot those teardrops ain't the same
You're gonna get a little close up of what I've been feeling lately
But all I can tell you, is cry cry baby

All I can tell you, is cry cry baby
