

The Magnetic Fields, All The Umbrellas In London

if i make it tonight it'll be all right it'll make a good song or something i've been trying to give myself reasons to live and i really can't think of one thing i drive around, i walk around in circles 'cause i've got no sense of direction and i guess i've got no sense at all (chorus:)

all the umbrellas in london couldn't stop this rain and all the dope in new york couldn't kill this pain and all the money in tokyo couldn't make me stay

i don't cry anymore, i go out the door and i usually keep on walking i will sit in the bar where the cocktails are but i really don't feel like talking i lie around and let the darkness fall 'cause i've got a sense of perfection and nothing makes much sense at all (repeat chorus)
