

The Magnetic Fields, In My Car

You were mean to me and broke my heart now you've gone away but we're apart but I've got a special machine to take me where things turned out differently and you still care

I'm in my car I'm in my car I'm taking a ride to somewhere inside where you never left and I never cried at the speed of light in my car.
Never comin' back to the world I know where I belong where I'm your girl so I've got fuzzy dice to bring me luck roll me to a better place where we can rock
