

The Magnetic Fields, Zebra

So we got married in Venice in June
So what?
We circled the Earth in a hot air balloon
So what?
and the rest of our lives
is one long honeymoon well, that doesn't mean we're in love
If you really loved me you'd buy me a beautiful pearl but you've already bought me all of the pearls in the world so there's one thing I crave when my days become ho-hum and blah
I want a zebra
We've got so many tchotchkes we've practically emptied the Louvre In most of our palaces there's hardly room to manoeuvre I shan't go to Balie today I must stay home and Hoovre up the gold dust
That doesn't mean we're in love
If you really loved me
you'd buy me the Great Pyramid Oh, I'm so forgetful, you already did But there's one think I need if you won't think I'm greedy, my deah another zebra
Zelda looks lonely, I want a zebra
