The Methadones, Straight Up Pop Song

there's something i'm trying to say play what you want and let the chips fall where they may because i left you feeling ?smart? it gives me hope and it keeps me alive keeps me alive and here's a straight-up pop song for you do what you want with it i'll get my ?low income track? and you'll be talking shit behind my back 'cause a rock song is yesterday's news for better or worse it's who i am and what i do and here's a straight-up pop song for you do what you'd like with it it's not like your band deserves your big break now everything, you say, is sour grapes sold your records and guitar but things had fallen through music means a lot to me it must not mean much to you and here's a straight-up pop song for you some day you'll consider and you move on