

The Michael Gungor Band, :Prodigal

Words and music by Michael Gungor and Michael Rossback

I've tasted Your glory and I left it there.
You poured out Your Spirit and I didn't care.
Still you loved me

I've lived for myself with nobody to blame.
I took what You gave me and squandered Your grace.
Still You loved me.
Nothing compares to what You've done for me
Nothing compares to what You've done for me.

I could live for the broken and carry their pain.
I could die like a martyr or live like a saint just to love You.
I could sing like the angels and gather Your praise:
Be blessed beyond measure and give it away just to love You.
Still nothing compares to what You've done for me.
Nothing compares to what You've done for me.

My heart has been broken; I've laid out my shame.
Because of Your mercy,
All I can say is I love You.
And I will tell of Your story
I'll carry Your name
I'll live for Your glory Lord,
I'll share in Your pain just to love You.
For nothing compares to what You've done for me.
Nothing compares to what Youe done for me.

Nothing can separate us
Nothing can separate us
Not death or life
Or depth or height
Or unseen power
Now or ever!

Copyright 2006 worshiptogether.com songs/ASCAP. Admin by EMI CMG Publishing.