

The Midway State, Change For You

So here we fall, and here we break
and all that we had, is now just a mistake.
I guess it got boring and old,
So what have you done, you left me alone
You got your things, you got them all,
You know thers nothing you wont have,
and Im afraid I dont got the cash,
to keep you happy, and Im upset,
cause you show me the ill not free, that you need big fat limosenes,
to keep you high, to keep you safe, keep you in love.
What if change for you, then will you see me, still with you.
I 'd never do it; Im no fool.

So here we fall, and here we break
And all that we had, is now just a mistake.
You look so young, feel so misled
And your stuffy friends have gone to your head
You got your things, you got them all,
You know thers nothing you wont have,
and Im afraid I dont got the cash,
to keep you happy, and Im upset,
cause you show me the ill not free, that you need big fat limosenes,
to keep you high, to keep you safe, keep you in love.
What if i change for you, then will you see me, still with you.
I 'd never do it; Im no fool.

Honey Im not you.

I walk away, thinking back to the days, that I held you close with your puffy white coat, and you told me joe, I could never let go &quot;I need you more, then life it's self&quot;, and the rain poured down and I kept you dry, and I took the tears fallen from your eyes, and the snow came down and I kept you warm, and I kept you safe from your daddys dorm, when he said to you that you cant see me, &quot;all those pools boys got nothing good to be&quot;, now they got to you and what do you say, you want some rich guy instead of me.
What if i change for you, then will you see me, still with you.
I 'd never do it; Im no fool.
