

The Mission, Blush

She's got her hands on my steering wheel
Driving my car and I'm just the passenger
Taking me to heaven again
And I'm getting there too fast for her

And when she takes a dangerous curve a swerve
It makes me rush
And when she puts her foot on the brake it slows me down
And makes me blush

Sometimes when she drives too fast I lose control and then we crash

Close my eyes when she overtakes I don't wanna see a head on smash

And when she shifts it into fifth I'm along with
Her for the ride
And when she hits the open road I explode
And we collide what a ride

And when we reach our destination our location
I'm all out of breath
She'll be the death of me
