

The Mission, Keep It In The Family

Dark secrets that lie behind closed doors
Everyone of us has something to hide
Family ties blood thicker than water family wars
When push comes to shove and rape comes as love whose side are you on?
Just shut your mouth and we'll keep it in the family

And do you lie awake in your bed at night
Just praying for the morning sun?
Too scared to breathe too scared to dream with a hand on your mouth so you can't scream
Just waiting for the sun to rise
In the cold light of day there's nothing to say
Just shut your mouth and we'll keep it in the family.
