

The Moffatts, Two Beats

In my room, staring at the ceiling
I'm twisted by the fear I'm might lose
Why me torn between the choices
I'm hearing all these voices call me
Will my thoughts remain as a blur
Will my heart help me find a cure

CHORUS:

Two beats one heart
Caught up in the middle tears me apart
Two beats one heart
Living life is hard as letting go

One beat always keeps me here
Hiding from the fear inside me
And one beat shows me the way
With blind faith to guide me
Can I ever really be sure
Will my heart help me find a cure
